President Jubilant over Results of Fifteen Days Outing in Cane
Brakes---Three Bears Killed and an Assortment of Small Game.

Stamboul, La., Oct. 20.—"We got with relish.

As he talked he stood under a wide-spreading live oak in the big ten-acre grass plot which constitutes the front yard of the model plantation home in which Mr. Shields resides. Around him were gathered Mr. Shields and a number of guests whom he had invited to dine with the president. They consisted of the members of the president's Washington party who had remained here and those who came in with him from the lake, including Messrs. McIlheny, Lamber, Richey, the Osborne brothers and the Metcalf brothers, Mr. Parker, who had been called to New Orleans on business, returned to say good-bye to the president and was in the party at Mr. Shields' home. In the distance were gathered the negro hunters—Holt Collier, Alex Arnolds, Brutus Jackson and numerous cooks, teamsters and messengers, while the horses stood grazing in the yard and the dogs lay around licking their lacerated bodies, many of the animals being in bad condition on account of the long chase and others as the result of the contact with wild hogs, wildcats and other things.

The president was the central figure of the group, and he never appeared in happier frame of mind than on this occasion. He declared that his health had been perfect and his appetite equally good; said that with the exception of a day or so lost on account of rain, he had been in the saddle every day from daylight to dark, and ended by declaring that he had never in his life had finer sport.

How Roosevelt Killed His Bear.
The arrival of the party brought out the fact that a third bear had been killed on Friday, a 2-year-old, which

HASKELL AND GORE SPEAK

Warmly Received by National Farmers Congress---Senator-Elect Advocates Free Farm Implements--Important Measures Will be Urged Before Legislature.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 20.—Free farming implements for the agricultural interests of the country was advocated by T. P. Gore of Lawton during the course of an address to the Farmers' National congress here Saturday. A great shout of approval followed the statement. He declared that he would make his official life in Washington count for something, that he would fight for lower freight rates, cheaper transportation, deep harbors and improved waterways, early completion of the Panama canal, reciprocity treaties with all nations, free agricultural implements for farmers, annihilation of the trusts and monopolies. He said that he was opposed to gambling in agricultural products and would urge a bill in congress to stop that practice.

Governor-elect Haskell came down from Guthrie on the morning train and delivered an address of some length. He praised the Oklahoma constitution

By Martin Musil of Barton county, Kan., in favor of coolie labor as a means of solving the laboring problem from the farmers' standpoint. Mr. Musil would, however, surround the law with restrictions and regulations.

By William Reece of Caddo county, Okla., in favor of limiting homestead entries to 80 and 40 acres; the latter figure to apply if the land in question is within 3 miles of a railroad.

By E. P. Diehl of Olathe, Kan., in favor of introducing horticulture and domestic science in the public schools.

By Joshua Strang, of Marion, Ind., in favor of an appropriation by the federal congress for experiments to cheapen the production of fuel and mechanical alcohol.

By J. F. Ferguson of Comanche, Ok., in favor of extending the time in which settlers of the Kiowa and Comanche Indian reservation recently opened in which to pay for their homes.

Will Urge Legislation.

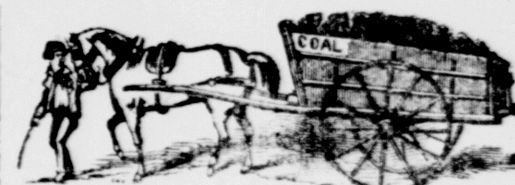

Oklahoma City, Ok., Oct. 19.—The first legislature will be attended by a special committee from the new state Farmers' Union with the purpose of urging legislation beneficial to the rural districts and aiding in the passage of laws compatible with the constitution. The farmers, as expressed here during the session of the National congress, are in sympathy with Oklahoma's new instrument, which they had a hand in the making. Now that it is to be the basis law they are interested in seeing its every provision supported.

The union will favor the sale of school lands in a way equitable to both the lessee and the state. The lessee who has made improvements upon the land, if not successful in utilizing his preference right, should be entitled, according to the belief, to pay for them.

School Land Disposition.

The question of school land disposition was thoroughly thrashed out at the constitutional convention and its many phases discussed. Under a construction of the enabling act the manner of their disposition or retention by the state was passed over to the first legislature.

OTIS B. WEAVER, Editor and Owner
HOWARD PARKER, Associate Editor

Entered as second-class mail matter March 26, 1904, at the postoffice at Ada, Indian Territory under the Act of Congress March 3, 1879.

DONAGHEY AT OKLAHOMA CITY.

Ada Man Prominent in the Effort to Memorialize Congress for Relief in the Indian Territory.

M. B. Donaghey and others introduced the following:

"To the delegates and officers of the Farmers' National Congress, now assembled:

"We submit the following to your honorable body:

"Whereas, our tribal government has ceased and we are on the verge of statehood.

"Therefore, we beg and pray this honorable body to take such action that will protect the interest of the Five Civilized Tribes.

Therefore, we, the undersigned citizens of the Indian Territory, being members of the Indian tribes by blood and inter-marriage respectfully submit the following resolutions to the Farmers' National Congress, and we respectfully solicit your aid and assistance in the effort to obtain through congress of the United States our demands to this end, we submit the following:

"Whereas, the Government of the United States is in possession of the funds of the Five Civilized Tribes, and

"Whereas, at least forty per cent of the tribal lands are yet unfilled and are in the hands of the Government, and

"Whereas, these lands should be placed upon the list of taxable property in the event of statehood.

"Therefore, be it resolved that we, the delegates and officers, seeing the immediate need of relief legislation along these lines respectfully ask the president and congress of the United States to immediately wind up tribal affairs and make full and complete settlement with the members thereof.

G. W. HARKINS,
FRITZ SITTTEL,
M. B. DONOGHEY.

County Record Books Bought.

Several printing houses had representatives in Ada Saturday to submit bids on the contract to furnish the record books necessary for Pontotoc county to begin business upon the proclamation of statehood.

After careful investigation and comparison of prices, a contract to furnish 70 books was awarded by the commissioners to the Bennett Printing company of Paris, Texas. At least its as near a contract as such an agreement at this time could be. There is of course, no liability in case we do not get statehood.

The total cost of these books will be about $980.

Council Meets Tonight.

The city council meets in regular session tonight. Among other things to attend to, a night watch is to be appointed to succeed J. B. Goteher, who has resigned, also the Oklahoma man who is seeking a franchise for a sewerage system in Ada has written that he will be present to submit his proposition to the council.

Mrs. R. O. Wheeler has returned home from Tulsa where she attended the Territorial convention of the V. C. T. U.

***** A VERY IMPORTANT NOTICE *****

Tuesday night there is to be a movement set on foot to organize the counties of the Chickasaw and Choctaw Nations for the fight to have the restrictions removed, the residue lands sold to actual settlers and the Indians paid entirely what is due them by the Federal government. Congress meets soon and these questions will be considered early in the session on account of statehood having already come. If the land of the Indian Territory is exempt from taxation, taxes will be very burdensome, and the object Tuesday night is to initiate a movement to support a strong lobby at Washington toward influencing legislation in the interest of the tax-payers of the new state, as well as that of the Indian. Every county must organize for this fight, and those interested, and all should be, are requested to meet at the Court House Tuesday night, Oct. 22.

G. W. Harkins of Coalgate, and others will be in Ada in the interest of the movement, and a full attendance is urged.

A Turkey Supper.

R. W. Simpson, the never-tiring proprietor of the Surprise Store, entertained his large force of clerks at a turkey supper at the Byrd Hotel Friday evening at eight o'clock. Mr. Simpson appreciates the good services rendered by his help, and thus expressed it. All report a splendid evening and the force demonstrated their appreciation by pulling off a record breaking day in the sales the following day.

R. W. Simpson's family and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Byrd were also guests.

HASKELL AND GORE SPEAK

the union favors purchase of the segregated mineral lands of Indian Territory by the state at an equitable figure. The manner of handling this vast estate will be a problem for the state to work out, the present disposition being to dispose of the surface to actual settlers in reasonable sized tracts.

For Uniform Road Laws.

The farmer is also particularly interested in a uniform and satisfactory road law to supplant the present Oklahoma statute. The union's recommendations will probably be along the line of the address delivered by President Moore of the National Good Roads Association to the Constitutional convention last winter.

The farmer shipper is likewise interested in the proper exercise of police and tariff regulation by the corporation of the administration does not possess sufficient power to deal with the situation as regards the common carrier the delegation will urge the passage of laws to supply the authority.

The legislative committee chosen at a recent meeting is composed of A. L. Hansam of Coweta, farmer member of the constitutional convention; E. E. Duffey of Lexington, vice president of the state or organization, and M. P. Brown of Pryor Creek, member of the state executive committee.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

ROOSEVELT'S HUNT ENDED.

was slain by one of the Osborne brothers when it was in a fierce fight with the dogs. When the president killed his bear on Thursday, the killing was witnessed by one of the McKenzies and Alex Arnolds. They agree in saying that the president's bearing was extremely sportsmanlike. The animal had been chased by the dogs for three hours, the president following all the time. When at last they came within killing distance the President dismounted from his horse, dashed off his coat and tore into the canebrake, coming to within twenty paces of the beast. The dogs were coming up rapidly, with the president's favorite "Rowdy" in the lead, and the brute had stopped to bid defiance to them when the president sent a bullet from his 45-70 Winchester hunting through the ticket after it. The shot went through the animal's lights and would have been fatal, but with the little life left in it the bear turned upon the dogs. The president concluded to end it all, and lodged a second bullet between the shoulders, breaking the creature's neck.

Other members of the party were not long in coming up, and the president was so rejoiced over his good fortune that he almost embraced each of his companions. They were equally happy and in the exuberance of the moment Arnolds went to the extent of telling the president that he, the president, was "no tenderfoot." The president responded by presenting him with a $20 bill.

Little Hunting on Last Day

Yesterday there was comparatively little hunting, because of the condition of the dogs, some of which encountered a drove of wild dogs, which are more ferocious than bears. One of the best dogs of the Osborne pack was killed outright by a big bear.

There were daily swims in the lake by several members of the party, and by the president himself, after his example of last Monday.

"The water was fine," he said, "and I did not have the fear of alligators that some seemed to have."

The ride from the camp was not begun until noon today, and because of the rough character of the road, three hours were required to cover the distance of sixteen miles. The president rode the large bay horse which carried him during the hunt, and which is owned by Mr. Shields.

The president will leave here tomorrow at 10 o'clock, and will spend four hours at Vicksburg.

SOCIETY POSSUM HUNT.

One Was Homeward Brought—Either Bought or Caught.

About a dozen couples of Ada's young—and middleaged—folks scoured the wild wood out toward the dam Saturday night in search of opossums. They proudly brought into town one of the species. But the question in the minds of those who hear the hunters boast is 'was that possum paid for?'

W. H. L. Campbell avers it was not that he caught it himself, and he exhibits a pair of barked shins as evidence that he climbed a black jack tree to get the varmint. It is whispered, however, that there was another hunting party in the woods that night, one of genuine hunters, and that they did catch a possum, but sold it before they got home.

Anyhow, the boys and girls had a lot of fun. They had a pack of hounds and negro guides and made lots of fuss in the woods.

Take a hand.

Cotton Coming from Afar.

It is remarked by cotton men that Ada is getting more cotton from a long distance this season than it has since several years back. There was a time, before the building of the M. K. & T. railway through here, when the wagon yards at night fairly teemed with cotton coming from afar, and in day time it is said a man could go a block down Main street, jumping from one cotton wagon to another, and never touch terra firma.

While the ramifying of the railroads tend to put an end to long distance marketing, it is evident Ada is getting considerable cotton from a distance. There has been here not a little from the Stratford and McGee country, and some from as far away as Asher, Ok.

Epidemic of Building.

There seems to be an epidemic raging over in the vicinity of West Fifteenth street. But it's the sort of epidemic town covet—one of house building. D. E. Price, C. S. Aldrich and D. J. Austin, are all just completing extensive additions and embellishments to their homes and others in that section are preparing to do likewise.

Improvements are also noticeable in other parts of the city, but they are not to be found quite so thick in any other one spot just now.

Its certainly refreshing and reassuring to take a drive over the town and note the amount of building and repairing in progress.

Trial Catarrh treatments are being mailed out free on request, by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. These tests are proving to the people—without a penny's cost—the great value of this scientific prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy. Sold by G. M. Ramsey.

DOWN ON THE FARM.

From Oklahoma Farm Journal.

Select Cottonseed Now.

Of course, you have selected your seed corn and have it stored away drying out thoroughly. If you haven't do it right now. You can buy good breeding live stock with money but you can buy real first class seed only with time. And the time must be spent in the work of intelligent seed selection.

It is the cottonseed for next year's crop that should have large attention now. At least, save the mature seed that is being picked, now, have it ginned separately and store it away. You can't save too much of it. There never is enough good cottonseed for planting. A great deal of this year's cotton crop grew from frosted seed scraped out of the seed houses at the gins last spring. That's not very good stuff from which to select seed. If your crop is from that kind of seed, get it somewhere else.

But do it now. Don't depend on the ginner to do it for you. He will not do it. Why should he? You are more interested than he and if you'll not go to the trouble of saving good seed, why should any one else do it for you?

Real success in growing cotton in Oklahoma comes to those who select and develop acclimated seed. The farther north cotton is grown, the greater becomes the need for developing types suited to the short season and the cooler nights of summer.

Where Are the Tools?

You'll not likely have much more use for the cultivator and the mower, the horse rake, and the binder until spring. You can get well paid for the half day's work it takes if you'll round them up and stow them away out of the weather. The yhave dried out thoroughly during the long hot summer and if left out when it rains, will soak up water like a sponge. It doesn't take expensive sheds. The loss from leaving tools in the weather for one year will pay for a shed that will protect them for twenty years.

Right now, before you forget all about it, go do this. It will not take much time and it means dollars to you.

If part of the time spent cussing the trust was spent in greasing tools to stop rust and in putting them out of the weather, there wouldn't be so many "downtrodden" people in the world.

A weak Stomach, causing dyspepsia, a weak Heart with palpitation or intermittent pulse, always means weak Stomach nerves, or weak Heart nerves. Strengthen these inside or controlling nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly these ailments disappear. Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis., will mail samples free. Write for them. A test will tell. Your health is certainly worth this simple trial. Sold by G. M. Ramsey.
